GANGS GIVEN A CHANCE TO QUIT

As a dozen people are arrested, suspects warned to work with the police or face jail

By Kim Inam

POLICE have arrested more than a dozen suspected gang members in dawn raids across the borough at the start of a new operation to disrupt violence.

About 200 officers from Haringey police and specialist support teams raided 17 homes in simultaneous raids starting at 6am last Thursday, targeting known gang members.

A woman and 12 men, aged between 17 and 26, were arrested on suspicion of burglary, armed robbery, possession of drugs, stolen credit cards and weapons. Four had been arrested for taking part in the recent riots.

The raids are part of Operation Connect, which targets violent gang members and offers them a route out of gangs as well as disrupting criminal activities.

The police have identified more than 80 people in Haringey whom they believe are involved in violence or are at risk of being involved in gang activity.

The operation started last week when many identified gang members received hand-delivered letters offering them a chance to work with the police and local organisations to end their criminality or face police action and possibly jail. The letter gave a telephone number to call and concluded: "The choice is yours".

"Everyone gets an opportunity to leave their gang," said DCI Tim Champion, who is leading the operation that started in April in Waltham Forest, where there has been a reduction in youth violence and robbery.

"We will do everything we can to get them

Ultimatum: Superintendent Chris Barclay and DCI Tim Champion

into education or employment and support them – in some cases moving them out of the area. If they don't choose to leave the gang, then we will pursue them for any offence they commit – including failing to pay for a TV licence or have car insurance.

"Throughout the process they will be given more opportunities to leave the gang. "It's an Al Capone-style approach – we will do anything we can to get them."

Three people who received the letter made contact with the police and were taken off the raid list.

Council worker who helped hundreds of people in the aftermath of the Tottenham riot is praised for efforts

Helen's work receives some Royal approval

A WOMAN who helped hundreds of people in the aftermath of the August riots has been commended for her efforts in a London-wide awards scheme.

Helen Constantine, head of business management in Haringey Council's adult and housing services, was nominated for the Peace Award for her dedication in running the Tottenham Community Assistance Centre.

After mobilising a team of volunteers, Helen coordinated the transformation of Tottenham Leisure Centre into an emergency relief centre, which helped hundreds, many of whom had their homes and belongings destroyed by fire.

The Peace Awards are run by the Peace Alliance, which began in Tottenham but is now a London-wide charity.

The Alliance commended Helen's work at the Community Assistance Centre, and said: "Helen demonstrated an amazing level of leadership and determination in the wake of the Tottenham riots as she immediately set in place a support framework for those whose home and business had been affected by the riots."

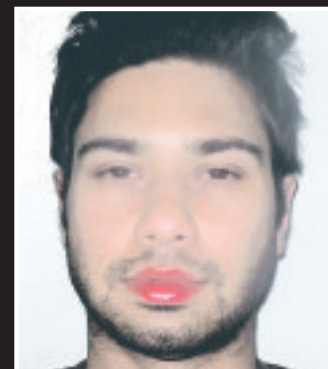

Support staff: Helen met the Duchess of Cornwall and Prince Charles when they visited the Community Assistance Centre following the riots

Helen said: "It was a real honour to be nominated for this prestigious award. I am very proud of the contribution made by council staff, our voluntary sector partners and the public, in both time and expertise."

"This was a real test of our emergency plan and it was great to see it in practice with the centre set up so quickly so that we could help immediately. It made all the preparation worthwhile."

Police look for public's help to find man

DETECTIVES are appealing for information to help trace a man they want to speak to about an incident in White Hart Lane in April.

Tanzib Ahmed Auvie is believed to have been living in Haringey at the time, but he also has links to east and north London and Leicester. The 22-year-old is described as being about 5ft 7in tall and of slim build.

Officers are now releasing his image to the public in the hope of identifying his whereabouts.

Anyone with information is asked to contact DC Steve Bent of Haringey CID on 020 8345 0806 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

The National Lottery Olympic Park Run

To celebrate National Lottery players' contribution towards London 2012, including the venues and infrastructure, the first ever public event at the Olympic Stadium is being staged on Saturday 31 March 2012.

The National Lottery Olympic Park Run will give 5,000 successful applicants, randomly picked from all entries in an online ballot, the chance to run a five-mile course that will cross the Olympic Park and offer access on a scale not yet experienced by the public.

The 5,000 lucky hopefuls chosen from the ballot will also get a pair of spectator passes each to the Olympic Stadium, so that two friends or family members can cheer them on and be part of this memorable occasion.

Lord Coe (Chairman of LOCOG), Danny Crates (Paralympic Champion), Tamzin Outhwaite (actress) and Roger Black (Olympic Silver medalist) launch the online ballot at The Olympic Park

The National Lottery's Role in London 2012

Robber is jailed over knife attack on bus passenger

Sentenced to 30 months: Liam Dunleavy said he was drunk when he was on the bus

By Daniel O'Brien

A MAN has been jailed for his part in a robbery in which a 40-year-old man was "bullied, assaulted and threatened with a knife".

Liam Patrick Dunleavy, 26, of Denham Road, Wood Green, was sentenced to 30 months in prison last Thursday at Wood Green Crown Court for the robbery on a 125 bus in May.

Dunleavy and another suspect, a black man, were on the bus travelling towards Winchmore Hill when the victim boarded at High Road in Whetstone.

After taking a seat at the back of the bus, the man was joined by Dunleavy's accomplice, who pushed him against a window and began demanding money and threatening to stab him.

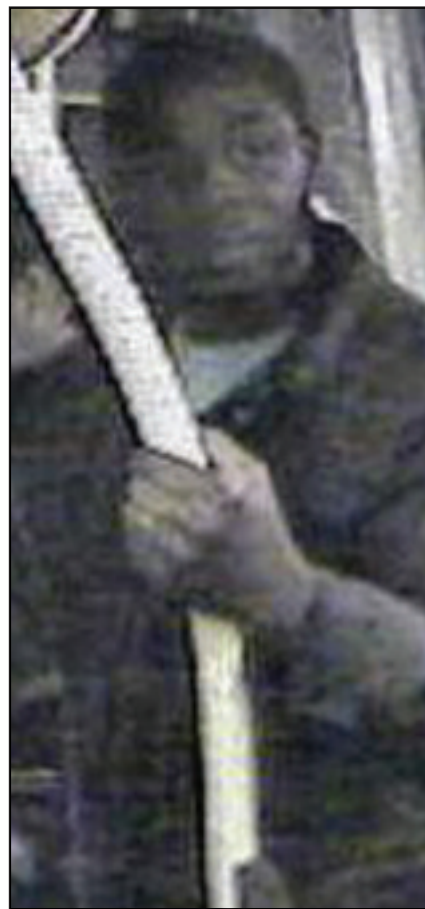

The passenger got out a wallet containing a £5 note, which Dunleavy told him to hand over.

The accomplice also took the man's ring and neck chain, banging his head against the window as he tried to pull off the chain.

The attackers got off the bus at Russell Lane in Whetstone. They were captured on the bus's CCTV and Dunleavy was identified and arrested before being picked out at an identity parade by the victim.

Dunleavy admitted being on the bus but said he was drunk at the time and could not remember much. He refused to name his accomplice, whom police are still trying to trace.

Detective Chief Inspector Iain Raphael, of Barnet CID, said: "This was a nasty robbery in which a man was bullied, assaulted and threatened with a knife."

Wanted: Police are still trying to trace a second man following the attack on the bus

"I would ask anyone who can identify the wanted man to contact police."

You can call 101 or if you do not wish to give your name phone Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111, quoting reference number 2410978/11.

Driver had stolen car in crash which killed woman on crossing

THE driver of a car involved in a crash which killed a woman on a zebra crossing has been jailed for nine years.

Allen Jonathan Dunne, 30, of West Green Road, Tottenham, was driving at speed on the wrong side of West Green Road at about 11pm on July 27 when he hit Christina Mackay, 55, as she crossed the road.

She was thrown into the air and along the pavement, and was pronounced dead at the scene.

Dunne did not stop and later abandoned the maroon BMW in nearby Albany Close.

He had stolen the car during a burglary in Bawtry Road, Whetstone, the previous day.

He was sentenced to nine years in prison at Wood Green Crown Court on Monday for causing death by dangerous driving, along with a string of other offences, including burglary and driving while disqualified.

Passing sentence, Judge Simon Carr said that unemployed Dunne had "shown complete disregard for society".

Detective Inspector Adrian Looby, of the road death investigation unit, said: "Christina Mackay lost her life in tragic circumstances, due to the appalling driving and total disregard for others shown by Dunne."

"His actions have destroyed many people's lives, which no sentence passed could ever remedy."

Special six go full time on the force

On parade: Met Police Commissioner Bernard Hogan-Howe inspects the former specials

SIX special constables have spent their first week on the streets of Haringey as fully fledged police officers.

They were part of the first group of officers to take the MSC to PC (Met Special Constabulary to Police Constable) course, a new recruitment method approved by the Metropolitan Police Authority a year ago.

Recruits are chosen from specials and PCSOs who have displayed commitment and operational ability. They are given a programme tailored to build on their skills, including a PLC (policing, law and communities) course, followed by three weeks of intensive practical training.

PC Shawn Ross was a special in Westminster for five years. He worked in finance and looked back to his childhood thoughts of joining the police when he realised he would rather be mingling with people than sitting at a desk. He is now working in Haringey and said: "I'm looking forward to the challenges ahead and being part of the solution to issues such as knife crime."

Colleague PC Francesca Piralla was a special in Barnet for three years. After finishing her studies, she was working in admin when she decided to become a special, having seen an advert while travelling on public transport. She carried on working in admin and spent weekends and other free time volunteering as a special.

She said: "I didn't intend to become a police officer as a day job, but as time went on I realised that I was more looking forward to going on duty at the weekend than going to my regular job. I get such a lot of job satisfaction. When I come in and put on my uniform, I'm reminded why I do it. I can go out and try to make a difference."

Among the first visitors: Nadine Forde and daughter Afia at the newly renamed library

IT was a case of back to the future as Haringey got an old new library.

Stroud Green Library has been renamed Stroud Green and Harringay Library at the request of local residents.

The library in Quernmore Road was meant to have the longer title when it opened 110 years ago, but it was never formally adopted.

Local historian John Hinshelwood helped to piece together the building's history.

He said: "This was built for both communities. Records show that it was first discussed as a library for both Stroud Green and Harringay."

"The council has done well to act quickly in renaming this library, which is what local people want."

Councillor Alan Strickland, cabinet member for economic development and regeneration, said: "I hope that it will continue to serve the needs of this area for many years to come and I was pleased to see it so busy and full of life when I visited."

Nadine Forde and her 10-month-old daughter, Afia, were among the first to visit the renamed library, attending the weekly Movers and Shakers event and stayed for tea and cakes to celebrate the renaming.

She said: "I live in the Harringay area and enjoy coming to this library, it has such a great atmosphere, I'm really pleased it's now got a connection to both areas."

For more information about events at Stroud Green and Harringay Library, visit www.haringey.gov.uk or call 020 8489 8776.

KING SUFFERS NEW SETBACK

By Dominique Stafford

INJURY-plagued Ledley King is set for yet another spell on the sidelines after the defender limped out of Tottenham Hotspur's action-packed 2-2 draw at Newcastle United on Sunday.

King, who is out of contract at the end of the season and is desperately trying to prove his fitness in order to get a new deal, lasted for little more than half an hour before he was forced to come off with a groin injury – much to the frustration of manager Harry Redknapp.

"Ledley has an abductor strain," he said. "He is always open to injury because he doesn't train. If you don't train you can't be fit. He is a miracle of a player. He played four games on the spin and we won four."

"I wouldn't like to say how long he will be out for, but it will be a while. It's always a blow to us when he is out, because when he plays we don't lose too often. He just has a calming influence on the team, and he did that early in the game."

Spurs had looked like getting a fifth successive Premier League win when a Rafael van der Vaart penalty and a fine strike from Jermain Defoe either side of Demba Ba's goal for Newcastle had seen them lead 2-1 heading into the closing stages.

But a superb late goal from Shola Ameobi saw the hosts claim a share of the spoils as the game came a pulsating climax – with both sides missing good chances to snatch victory at the death.

"At 2-1 I felt comfortable," Redknapp added. "I thought there was only going to be one winner, and that was us."

"We hit them on the break and had some fantastic situations. We could have finished them off, but we did not find the right pass or release the ball quickly enough."

"When you are 2-1 up with minutes to go you are looking to win the game, so you can't be satisfied with a point. It becomes disappointing."

"Last year we were losing with a minute to go and grabbed a late equaliser so we were delighted, but when you are winning so late in the game you are really looking to get the three points."

Injured again: Ledley King limped out of Sunday's match against Newcastle

Borough remain in contact with the pace-setters

HARINGEY Borough maintained their place in the upper reaches of the Spartan Premier Division table by romping to a 4-0 victory at home to Broxbourne Borough on Saturday.

It took some time for Borough to get into their stride in a match marred by a broken leg sustained by Broxbourne's Jake Parratt, and they were lucky not to fall behind before they opened the scoring through Roland Namquita's low shot on 38 minutes.

But, after the visitors squandered a golden opportunity to get back on level terms, the second half was a different story as Borough took control.

The crucial second goal finally arrived on the 76th minute when Richard Worrell powerfully headed home Namquita's cross from the right at the far post.

Borough keeper Nick Christofi then made a fine save from a misdirected defensive header before substitute Christopher Benjamin marked his debut by adding the third. Worrell rounded off the scoring by forcing the ball over the line during a goalmouth scramble in stoppage time.

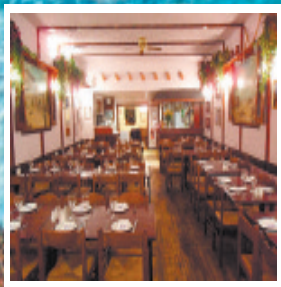

The win lifted Borough up in to sixth place in the table, but they have at least two games in hand on all the sides above them and are only three points off third.

Haringey Borough, who were due to visit Harefield United in the second round of the Spartan Challenge Trophy last night, entertain Hadley in the FA Vase on Saturday (3pm).
